

Preaching and Teaching Eschatology in the Old Testament with Dr. Walter Kaiser Saturday March 20th

About Our Speaker Dr. Walter C.

Kaiser Jr., an evangelical speaker, holds to the truths that the Bible is inspired and inerrant. He uses hermeneutics rooted in grammatical-historical methods. Teaches Promise Theology using expository preaching methods that focus on the meaning and messages of the biblical text, especially that of the Old Testament. Dr. Kaiser's love of his LORD, Jesus Christ, his knowledge of the whole biblical text, and a God given gift of humor make Dr. Kaiser a sought after evangelical speaker and Christian author.

When Dr. Kaiser isn't traveling and speaking he can be found at his farm, Kerith, in Wisconsin. Having grown up on a farm in Pennsylvania, Walter loves the farm life. He is an avid gardener and enjoys spending free time on a tractor.

In the late fall of 1963, Kaiser was asked to teach a class at Trinity Evangelical Divinity School when the instructor, Wilbur Smith, suddenly took ill. In 1964 Kaiser began a two-year term of teaching at both Trinity and Wheaton. In the fall of 1966 he joined the Trinity faculty on a full-time basis. While pursuing graduate studies at Brandeis, Kaiser became professor and chairman of the Old Testament department at Trinity. He completed his Ph.D. dissertation in 1973.

In 1980 Kaiser assumed the responsibilities of vice president and academic dean of Trinity and continued in that office until June of 1992. In the fall of 1993 he accepted an invitation from Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary to serve as the first Colman M. Mockler Distinguished Professor of Old Testament. He taught during the fall semester, and lived on his Wisconsin farm and spoke around the world the remaining eight months of the year. In the summer of 1997 Kaiser assumed the presidency of Gordon-Conwell while retaining the Mockler chair. In addition to being a Wheaton College trustee since 1982, Kaiser has served on various other boards.
